Four Drowned In Boat Accident At Tahoe Saturday

Search has been virtually abandoned for the bodies of a man and three teen age boys believed drown ed in Lake Tahoe and missing since Saturday afternoon.

The boat was believed en route from Homewood to the South Shore when it disappeared. Six life preservers and a fuel tank, definitely identified as having been on the missing boat, have been recovered off the southeast shore of the lake. The preservers and tank were on the boat when it left Homewood.

Missing are Merle Simpson, 24, owner of the boat, Mike Palmer, 16, and Tricky Brown, 17, all of Tahoe Valley and Louey Jursch, 15, of Sausalito.

Sergeant John Crow of the El Dorado County sheriff's department said fishermen late Sunday reported what they believed was a body about 10 feet under the surface, but the water was too rough to ascertain the true identity of the object sighted near Elk Point.

The boat, a 15-foot catermaran, powered by two 70 horsepower motors, is believed to have gone down a mile or two from shore between Emerald Bay and Rubicon Point.

The search was conducted by the coast guard, the South Tahoe Boat Club and planes from the Truckee-Tahoe and South Tahoe airports.

Wurst Transfer Is Opposed By Group

Local sportsmen, as well as their many friends and neighbors are protesting a decision by the state fish and game officials to transfer George Wurst, local game management official in this area, and leave the position vacant.

The Truckee Outdoor Sportsmen are attempting to dissuade the com mission from its objective, holding that the management man is important to preserving the dwindling herds of deer and other game throughout the east slope of the Sierra.

Under the present plan, Wurst would be transferred to Sacramento on September 1 and men from Quincy, Jackson and Nevada City would be assigned to cover this important region. How the department expects to give adequate coverage under the new plan has not been explained.

The Wursts are well known here and are buying their home in the area. Their four children are attending the local schools and Mrs. Wurst has signed a contract to teach here during the coming school year.

When his duties permitted, Wurst has been active in promoting Little League activities and is president of the Tahoe-Truckee Little League this year.

SUNBEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Hats off this week to the men of the Truckee district of the Tahoe National Forest for the fast and efficient way in which they attack a fire. Minutes after a potentially dangerous blaze was spotted west of Truckee, the helicopter, the first line of attack, had dropped two firemen on the scene and while the tankers and crews wheeled to the blaze, a borate plane from Nevada City was summoned and the 32-man inmate crew at Hobart Mills was on the way. The plane dropped its deterant in the heart of the fire as crews circled it and held it to less than half an acre. This fast and united method of attack is paying off and while the forest service officials are applying every known means to prevent a spread of fire, and are on the alert night and day, they point out that even with the best methods, the danger is high and with one careless act, a major fire could result which all combined forces in the state might be powerless to halt.

20th Forest Fire In Area Far Ahead Of Last Year Mark

The Truckee district of the Tahoe National Forest this week chalked up its 20th fire of the current season, a figure far ahead of the eight reported on the same date last year.

The startling fact is that 11 of the fires thus far in 1964 have been man caused, seven started by lightning. Last year there were seven lighting fires and only one man caused fire at this time.

During the entire season of 1963, there were only 26 fires reported, 15 of which were man caused.

District Ranger George Steed said this week that the number of fires this year is causing great concern with the forest service, particularly since the majority are definitely being set through carelessness, permitting children to play with matches and a possibility of incendiarism.

All fires are being carefully investigated and suspects questioned closely. Officials are still probing the fire which started recently on the Brockway shortcut at the same time a fawn was shot and killed, the illegal hunter being blamed for both the killing of the deer and starting the fire.

"We are frankly worried about the current situation and cannot be too emphatic in our warning to everyone entering the forest," Steed declared. "So far we have been fortunate in catching the fires before they get a good start, and we hope this good fortunate continues, but we can't count on it and sincerely urge more care in preventing fires."

Man Stabbed In Brawl Over Booze

One man was jailed and two others hospitalized, one with serous knife wounds, as the result of a brawl last Thursday night in a Truckee bar and in the Southern Pacific yards.

In the hospital with knife wounds in his abdomen, left arm and hands was Nick Salazar, 31.

Held as the assailant was Dionicio Lopez Perez, 31. Treated for head injuries was Scrapi Coronel, 35, who charges that he was severly beaten in a rest room in a main street bar by Salazar. Officers said the men were quarelling over a bottle of whiskey.

After Perez returned to their quarters in the S.P. yards, two hours later, Deputies Sheriff Preston Patnoude and Robert Schooley were called by other railroad workers after Perez is accused of threatening Salazar and the latter pulled a knife and the fight started.

Perez later appeared in the local judicial district court and was fined $330 on an assault charge.

All three men were employed as laborers by the railroad and lived in cars spotted on the siding.

Two Threatening Forest Fires Are Controlled Here

A potentially dangerous fire which started near the McGlashan Springs, one of the principal sources of Truckee's water supply, was quickly extinguished Monday about 2 p.m. by the effective work of the U. S. Forest Service combined forces.

Horse tracks near the scene of the quarter-acre blaze ,indicated that a rider may have been at the springs and as he or she left, carelessly dropped a burning cigarette or match.

The borate plane from Nevada City made two drops, hitting the fire right in the eye. The helicopter, stationed in Truckee made the first attack with two men and was followed by the tankers, suppression crew and the inmate "hot shot" crew. Within minutes the fire was surrounded.

With a rather brisk wind blowing, the fire, which was in a rather wooded, brushy area, could easily have spread into a major conflagration with dire results. Many homes in the Donner Trail and Meadow Park areas, were only a short distance from the fire.

Officials are again warning of the extremely dry conditions which prevail and are urging care by everyone entering the forests.

Small boys playing with matches were blamed for a second fire Monday about 4:30 p.m. a quarter of a mile north of the west end of Donner Lake which again brought out the combined forces of the forest service, augmented by the Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

The incipient blaze was quickly controlled and although the borate plane was again summoned from Nevada City a drop was not made as the fire department, suppression crew and inmates had the blaze under control.

A nine-year-old boy, who was playing with companions in the area, admitted, forest service officials said, starting the blaze.

CHAMBER OPPOSES TRANSFER OF WURST

The Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce, meeting at Smart's on Wednesday, went on record opposing the transfer of George Wurst, local game management official, to Sacramento, leaving this area without a manager. Jack Marquette, who presided at the meeting, said a letter would be dispatched to fish and game director Walter Shannon asking that the transfer be cancelled.

A copy of the letter goes to State Senator Paul Lunardi who said he would investigate the proposed elimination of the position in this area.

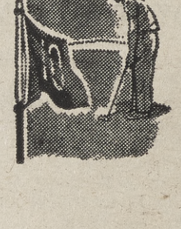
WHAT IS SOMA SIERRA?

SOMA SIERRA is a brand new idea in vacation living.

Let's See If It Appeals to You



THE IDEA IS THIS: Why should people bother with all the trouble and expense of owning a second home in the mountains when 1.-it's expensive and 2.-it stands vacant most of the time? Why not LEASE one instead, and for only the number of weeks they actually use it? And why not bring the price down to about $100 per week? This way, people really would be saving money , , , ,

SO, WE FORMED SOMA SIERRA

We built the most strikingly beautiful mountain chalets you've ever seen. Now, you and your family or friends can vacation in one of these spacious homes located in the heart of an all-year 'round recreation area. We provide everything right down to the maid and linen service —all you provide is yourself . . . . . .

Drop by and see us. We are located one mile northeast of Donner Lake. Turn up the hill off old U. S. Forty at the Wilshire Station, one-quarter mile west of Gateway.

ANNUAL TREVIS CUP ONE-DAY RIDE WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Sixty horses and riders will take off from the shore of Lake Tahoe predawn, Saturday, July 25, for the 10th Annual Tevis Cup 100 Miles One Day Ride to Auburn, California, over a trail once used in gold rush days by the Pony Express riders.

Generally considered as the highest honor in horsemanship, the Tevis Cup will go to the rider who comes in first with the condition of his horse as a determining factor. This year a new trophy will be added, the Haggin Cup for the horse arriving in the best condition. All who complete the 100 miles in one day on one horse will get a silver and gold belt buckle as an award.

With nearly double the number of previous riders entered in this year's event, Wendell Robie, president of the sponsoring Western States Trail Ride, reported that the condition of the trail is not good. He said the forest service is repairing the places where the winter storms did the most damage and assured that riders will find the way well marked and passable.

Radio-equipped jeeps will be stationed every few miles along the trail. Members ofthe Placer County division of the California department of civilian defense will thus keep close tab on all who make the rough and rugged trip through the Sierra-Nevada wilderness. This is the first year this security measure has been extended although short wave radio has been used between check points in previous years.

Riders will gather at Tahoe City the afternoon of July 24 for thorough veterinarian tests of horses which are entered in the stamina-testing event. A brief session will take place in the community hall during the evening. At 5 a.m. the riders will start at intervals of two minutes each. The trail will take them through Deer Park and over Emigrant Pass above Squaw Valley (elevation 7,930) to Robinson Flat, a distance of 34 miles. The horses will be checked by veterinarians during this one-hour stop. Two more inspection points follow. The first at Michigan Bluff—a distance of 27 miles of "straight up and straight down" trail riding; then another 24 miles to Ponderosa Bridge, which is 15 miles from the finish line in Auburn, for a total of 100 miles. The total aggregate in descent en route is 15,250 feet; total aggregate climbing en route is 9,500 feet.

FAIR EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO FILE ENTRY

Nevada County District Fair Manager Malcolm E. Hammill is requesting all exhibitors in the junior and senior livestock, arts & crafts, painting, photography, lumber, minerals and mining departments to bring or mail their entry form and fee (not the article) to the fair office prior to July 24th.

TEACHERS ASKED TO JOIN CONTEST ON RIGHTS BILL

SACRAMENTO — The state Board of Education is urging California teachers to help improve the teaching of the Bill of Rights by participating in an essay contest sponsored by the Constitutional Rights Foundation.

Board members hope the winning essays will suggest methods of upgrading Bill of Rights instruction throughout the state.

Each participant is being asked to explain his "successful experiences in teaching the principles of the Bill of Rights" in grades 7 through 12.

Ten awards of $100 each will be presented on Bill of Rights Day—December 15. Entry deadline in September 15.

The foundation said it decided to sponsor the contest because "national surveys have revealed repeatedly that students and adults neither know, understand nor value the principles embodied in the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights."

"Material submitted should include a statement of the basic Constitutional value taught, with the learning experience used by the teacher. The contestant should focus on one or more of the following basic Constitutional principles: freedom of religion, separation of church and state, freedom of expression—speech and press, freedom of assembly and association, right to petition, right to vote, privilege against self incrimination, prohibition against unreasonable search and seizure, due process of law and equal protection of the law," the foundation said.

Entries for the contest, typewritten in triplicate, should be sent to the Constitutional Rights Foundation, Inc., Suite 459, 849 S. Broadway, Los Angeles 14. They should be accompanied by the following information; name, school position and address of contestant; specification of grade and subject in which the experience is developed; bibliographical information and specific credits for materials recommended. A statement should be included stating that "this material is not copyrighted and may be reproduced in whole or in part for circulation by nonprofit organizations."

At the July 10 state Board meeting, Board President Thomas Braden announced that the board had appointed the following judges for the contest: State Attorney General Stanley Mosk, Richard C. Maxwell, dean of UCLA's School of Law, and Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson of the California Supreme Court.

CRIME NEWS CURB SEEN AS DANGER TO PRESS LIBERTY

SACRAMENTO (CNS)--An assembly committee has been hold that newspapers could be faced with serious problems if a law were passed providing for expunging of all records of an arrest and trial if the defendant were acquitted.

The testimony came from Ben D. Martin, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, before the assembly committee on criminal procedures.

The committee, which was chaired by Assemblyman C. Beilenson, D—Beverly Hills, the vice chairman, was considering the subject matter of four bills from the 1963 session, all of which dealt with expungement of records in criminal proceedings where an acquittal resulted.

There presently are laws providing for expungement of records for juvenile offenders, even if they are convicted and sentenced, provided they go for a certain time after their sentence with no law violations. There also are provisions for expungement of the record for certain adult violations which result in conviction, if certain conditions are met.

Martin said the publishers were sympathetic to the views of some committee members that people should be protected against unfavorable publicity in the event they are arrested falsely and later acquitted of the crime.

"The problem, however," Martin said, "would be for a newspaper to defend itself for carrying a story about an arrest and trial, if after an acquittal, there was no record of there ever having been such an arrest, trial and conviction."

One witness at the hearing was John A. O'Connell, member of the industrial accident commission and former chairman of the committee. O'Connell once authored a bill which would have made all information on police blotters confidential. However, those provisions were rejected.

WRONG WAY DRIVER TARGET OF DEVICE NOW BEING TESTED

SACRAMENTO—The driver who tries to enter a freeway by going the wrong way onto a ramp meant for off-bound traffic now has sight and sound working to protect him at one test location in the state highway system.

Once he makes a wrong-way decision, his action triggers a series of devices intended to jar him into comprehension of his mistake and, in turn, into immediate remedial action.

The moment his wheels touch an inconspicuous detector buried in the pavement, a 12-inch red light goes on, a horn emits a blaring sound, and an ominous red sign (bearing the message "Go Back You Are Going Wrong Way") becomes visible.

This series of warning devices is part of and experimental project launched by the state division of highways' traffic department in an attempt to reduce accidents caused by wrong-way drivers.

Statistics show that approximately eight percent of fatal freeway accidents are caused by wrong-way movements, and many more persons—including the innocent victims proceeding unwarned in the right direction—are injured.

About four out of ten wrong-way incidents on freeways occur

The warm weather we've been having has left only a few little white patches of snow on the high peaks and deep crevasses. Wild flowers are beautiful in the higher elevations, but here at Donner the California poppies are still blooming and the ferny Queen Ann's Lace is at its prime now. Everything blooms about a month later than in the valleys.

Sack race winners at the recent Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department and ladies auxiliary picnic who received boxes of candy bars were: Greg Wurst, Susan Teasley, Greg's cousin from Fortuna, Pat Stark, Barbara Randol, Billie Stores, Shanna Curran and Nick Van Sant. They all had a lot of fun and delighted in making their parents participate in the games too.

Older sack runners were: Kate Miles, Evelyn Alexander, Marilyn Marquette, Joan Affeldt, Lona Boren, Shorty Harris, Jack Marquette and Dr. Bud Affeldt.

The beer drinking hose coupling teams did their best and really put on a show.

"Water boy" Finch saw that the tank was full, then off went the first contestant. Driver of the hose truck, George Wurst made a quick spin around the tanker with Bill Knapp, John Boren and Nick Van Sant hanging on for dear life. They fit the coupling to the water truck, spead on, reeling out hose, came to an abrupt stop and ran to the "fire". Water spouted out the end in 1 minute and 16 seconds.

Team No. 2 repeated the scene, hats on backward, Dave Swett, Sky Miles, Bob Randol hung on the back while "wild man" Bud Affeldt drove. It looked for certain that their team would win, but somebody forgot to turn the nozzle at the end of the hose, their time. 1:20.

Hal Welch and Joan Van Sant were drenched during the tug-o-war when they were pulled into the stream of water from the fire hose.

Miss Donner Lake of 1964 Candy Board was crowned by 1963 Queen Karen Smart. Candy and her attendants, Janice Randol and Susan Knapp were in swim suits for the judging.

This seems to be painting time, notice the multicolor panels in the Gammel's big "A" Frame by the beach, the Corro's Lake Shore Motel getting a fresh redwood stain and flamingo trim and the refresher coat of charcoal and pink on Harry's Motel.

The Donner Lake Water Ski club members had a difficult time during the California State Championships at Lake Merrit last weekend. They found salt water quite different to ski on than the clear waters of Donner Lake, and hope to do better this Saturday and Sunday at Chambers, Lake Tahoe.

Another fish plant last week has assured good catches of Rainbow trout from the shore again.

The Dave Sachau's have been getting nice sized German Browns in the Truckee river this week. They're busy painting their Pan-a-bode cabin at Summit Creek.

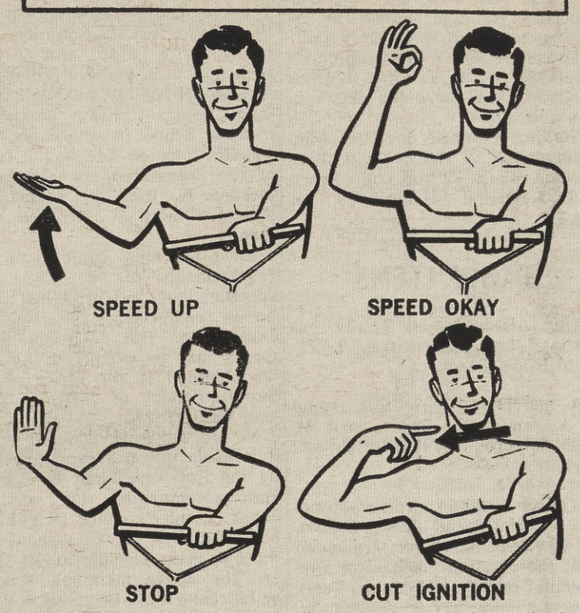
Don't forget to buy a ticket for the House and Cabin tour sponsored by the DLVFDLA. The $2 donation will help with the needed meeting room at the fire house. Starting from Donner Lake Lodge August 1, at 1 p.m. by boat or car, the tour will be of six lake front homes. Les Hadley, Ivan Tofft and Jack Marquette are donating the use of their boats for the event.

Boating Tips...



Since much of the fun of water skiing depends on the boat driver's skill, the Mercury outboard people offer these suggestions to tow boat skippers: 1) Watch for worn or tangled tow lines and check all ski equipment periodically for damaged parts. 2) Know the skier's hand signals: moving hand in lifting motion, palm upward, indicates "faster;" downward, "slower." Thumb and forefinger forming a circle means the speed is right. Hand up, palm outward, means "stop." Slashing motion across the throat means "cut the ignition." 3) Have an observer with you in the boat to watch the skier and relay messages (this is the law in some states). 4) Night skiing is dangerous and many states prohibit this practice. 5) When the skier is preparing for a takeoff, he will call "Take it up slow." Proceed very slowly, taking up the slack in the tow rope. When he calls "Hit it!", accelerate steadily, but not too fast, until the skier is up and planing. 6) When picking up a fallen skier, shut off the motor. 7) To put the rope back in the hands of a fallen skier, drive around him in a half circle and let the rope drift into him.

because vehicles are entering at off-ramps. Since the off-ramp is one instance where engineering ingenuity can offer considerable hope toward a solution, concentrated effort is currently being expended in this area. The experimental project is an outgrowth of this study.

The experiment, at an interchange in the Sacramento area, also incorporates advance warning for the non-suspecting right-way motorist. At the time the red light beams toward the wrong-way vehicle, an amber light flashes the other way, warning on-coming motorists that there is a need for caution.

Jean Phillipe

Jean Phillipe's nightly appearance with Frederic Apcar's Paris-created and produced "Vive les Girls" is another reason why the show is receiving such wonderful reception at Nevada Lodge. Jerry Gray, of Glen Miller and Artie Shaw fame, and his orchestra deliver that famous "big band" sound so many of us nostalgically remember—and still prefer.

The death toll of the Johnstown, Pa., flood in 1889 was estimated at 2,200 dead and 900 missing.

Coffee consumption in the United States reached an all-time high in 1946 of more than 20 pounds per person.

JO ANN JORDAN TRIO RETURNING TO CLUB

"She's back at the North End of Tahoe!" is the rally cry of hundreds and hundreds of Nevada Lodge patrons who have heard that the wild 'n wonderful, delectably luscious Jo Ann Jordan, and her inimitable sidemen, Kenny Armstrong an dPeter Rueben, will appear in the Topaz Room at Nevada Lodge, July 30 through August 12. The trio, headed by the "Gorgeous One" herself, is one of the most exciting and unpredictable entertainment combos ever to hit an area that has seen some of the finest talent to ever trod a stage.

Uproarious, sidesplitting, frantic, no single word can adequately describe the hi-jinx, polished comedy of the Jo Ann Jordan Trio. But if one had to choose a word, "spontanetity" would come closest to it. Musical versatility? Even if the Trio stuck strictly to the music, it would still be one of the finest musical aggregations in the country. Jo Ann has an exquisite vocal style, a superb voice, and the poise of a great singer. The "boys" complement her like bagel does lox. Incidentally Jo Ann Jordan is gorgeous enough to just stand there and draw raves.

July 30 through August 12, the Jo Ann Jordan Trio will alternate with the headline attraction, Frederic Apcar's Paris-created and produced Vive Les Girls Show, a fast-paced spectacular revue featured throughout the Summer in the Topaz Room at Neavda Lodge, North Tahoe's entertainment center.

TRANSIENT FINALLY LANDS IN JAIL HERE

NEVADA CITY — A Colorado Springs man tried twice in Truckee to be put in jail and finally succeeded.

Adam Toth, 42, asked the roving patrol car if he could ride around with them. They said no. Then he asked if he could wait in the jail. He said he was waiting for his brother to come from Sacramento. The sheriff's deputies again said no.

A little later the patrol got a complaint from the Greyhound bus driver that a man was sitting in his bus and wouldn't leave. When the patrol car arrived there was Toth who said "now will you put me in your jail?" They did.

Toth appeared in the Truckee Judicial District Court yesterday and pled not guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace. He remains in the county jail awaiting his court trial.

STATE BOARD ACTS AS TEACHER LACK BECOMES CRITICAL

SACRAMENTO—The California State Board of Education will act next month on a proposal to alleviate "dire teacher shortages" by reviving emergency-provisional teaching licenses.

This step backward from recent State action to eliminate provisional credentials will be taken, according to Board members, to help school districts—mostly in rural or climatically undesirable areas—find enough teachers to fill their classrooms in September.

Tentative regulations presented by Dr. Carl Larson, chief of the State Department of Education's credentialing division, indicate that districts desiring to hire persons with the new emergency credential will be required to demonstrate an actual need. Also, a one-year duration for the entire emergency credential program was specified. At the end of the year the Board will review the necessity for the credential, which will permit holders to teach with only three or four years of college instead of five.

These precautions, which are to include submission of district salary schedules and the salary to be paid emergency teachers, were insisted upon by the Board to prevent school districts from balancing inadequate budgets by hiring low-paid emergency teachers.

No emergency credential is to be issued to any person, according to Larson's proposed regulations, who cannot make a satisfactory grade on the National Teachers Examination. A satisfactory test showing would also have to be made to qualify for renewal of the credential each year.

If problems of test administration can be worked out, an essay-type subjective test of the candidate's literacy will be added to the objective National Teachers Examination.

The matter of literacy testing came up in connection with an application for a credential by a former teacher who had lost her license for defrauding the Aid to Needy Children program. Accompanying the application was a letter which stated in part:

"I had never been in no kind of trouble. Never drinked alcoholic beverages, smoked, run with an unruly crowd, discipated my body in rough living,"

The balance of the letter was on a comparable level of literacy.

While the Board members were inclined to reinstate the credential on evidence of the woman's rehabilitation, they refused to approve it after reading her letter. The application was referred to a referee for further hearing on the question of the woman's literacy.

Aside from testing for emergency credentials, Board members appeared to be unanimously in favor of some sort of test of literacy for teachers.

Sierra Art Show Scheduled July 29

Sierra College of Rocklin, will present its third annual art show Wednesday, July 29th at the Kings Beeach Elmentary School, North Tahoe, from 1:00 to 4:00 and from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

College students and adults from the Lake area have been working for six weeks under the direction of Mrs. Vesta Chastian, art consultant for the Auburn schools and Placer County, who has handled the Summer art program for the college for the past three years.

Lake residents have enjoyed the large variety of art work displayed by college students in past years and this summer's show promises to raise the standards even higher.

On exhibit will be painting and drawings, in various media, from models, landscapes and still life. Colleges, string painting and art to music are also featured. Three dimensional work will be represented by paper sculpture, mobile paper mache, and sand molds.

By making classroom facilities available for the Sierra College Summer Session, the Tahoe-Truckee Unified School District has brought to the people of the North Lake area a Summer college program in both the arts and the academic fields. College units earned here are recognized through the United States.

DRIVE IS OPENED TO AID SALVATION ARMY

The annual Salvation Army drive for contributions needed to maintain its welfare services for local residents was launched this week.

The Salvation Army operates in Truckee through a service unit committee of business, professional and civic leaders who volunteer their services. Chairman of the local committee is N. F. Dolley.

Working in cooperation with other welfare agencies, as well as the schools and police department, the committee meets emergency and supplementary welfare needs when public assistance is unavailable or inadequate.

The Salvation Army has developed a "budget and quota plan," based on population and income, which indicates "fair share" financial support of the statewide services for each California community. "Fair share" support here must be raised by the campaign now under way, since the Salvation Army locally receives no funds from any community or other federated fund.

Donations should be sent to: The Salvation Army Treasurer, Mr. Richard T. Bollin, c/o Bank of America, Truckee.

FIRE IN CHAIR CAUSE OF ALARM AT TAHOE

KINGS BEACH— Believed to have been caused by a smoldering cigaret carelessly tossed into a discarded overstuffed chair, fire Monday morning at 1 o'clock offered a threat to the Tahoe Theater and other nearby businesses.

The barking of a dog in a nearby apartment aroused neighbors and the North Tahoe Fire Protection equipment arrived in quick time and soon had the blaze well under control without serious damage.

Theater Owner William Tamblyn had the small damage repaired and the theater open for business Monday night. The building is owned by the Joe King Estate.

From Kentucky—

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Meiss are planning an indefinite stay here, arriving from their Kentuck home.

NEWS OF DEATH IS CONTAINED IN NOTE

TAHOE CITY — A brief note was received by friends at Lake Tahoe and Truckee from Mrs. Tom McDowell, telling of the recent death at Inverness of Mr. McDowell.

Mrs. McDowell is well known in this vicinity, when in years past, she and her late husband, Nate Sexton made their home here. She is presently living at Chico and is receiving the sympathy of local friends.

Two Injured —

Donald Lee Guilliam, 20, Reno and Talmadge F. Norwood, 19, Marysville, were treated at the hospital for minor injuries following a three car mishap near Soda Springs at 1:20 a.m. Monday. Norwood was cited for making an unsafe pass.
